Dear President/National Society Representative,

The APFCB Congress is one of the most significant international scientific congresses in the field of Clinical Biochemistry and Laboratory Medicine in the region. The APFCB Congress also hosts the APFCB Council and serves as the focal point for the activities of APFCB and its working relationships with its Member Societies. It is normal practice for the APFCB Congress to be hosted by one of the Full Members and we invite you to consider whether your society may wish to host the 19th APFCB Congress in 2029.

Accompanying this letter is a copy of the Guidelines for organizing a APFCB Congress. Guidelines outline the terms, conditions and procedures that will apply and the nature of the working relationship between APFCB, IFCC, and the host society. Based on the guidelines, the APFCB Congresses will be held every TWO (2) years (2027, 2029, 2031).
